DEFENSE CALLS MORE WITNESSES TO PROVE FRANK SMITH INSANE.

Murder Case Resumed Again This Morning Before Judge Van Swearingen at Uniontown.

TELL OF PECULIAR ACTIONS

Would Not Tell Why Smith Left Sunday School—Street Car Man Says He Looked Queer—Fairchance Denies on the Stand.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 19.—Expert testimony in the defense of Dr. Frank Smith will be taken tomorrow, according to a statement made today by counsel for the accused man. Then several physicians, including Dr. T. J. White of Connellsville, Dr. T. N. Eastman and Dr. K. F. Smith of Uniontown, will be called. It is expected their testimony will be the most important for the defense and they are expected to show Smith undoubtedly insane at the time the murder was committed.

This morning witnesses who had known Smith for some time past were called to testify regarding his alleged mental peculiarities. George M. Grim, a Smithfield merchant, Perry Bishinger and Malcolm King told of instances where Smith had developed peculiarities that led them to believe him of unsound mind.

William David was called but his testimony was not along the line the defense expected. David didn't last long on the stand and then Attorney T. V. Jones of the defense was sworn and told that David had told the attorney for the defense he believed Smith's mind was not normal. David had a lapse of memory on the stand.

Won Prize in Contest.

George Abel, a street car conductor, running between Smithfield and Fairchance, took the stand this morning for the defense and spoke of a number of occasions when it had been necessary for him to give Smith a calling down so that people "would not think he was trying to make trouble." He told of the time Smith was running in a literary contest of the Pittsburgh Sun about a year ago, in which he won third prize. Abel admitted to Patterson it was necessary to be well acquainted with authors to have participated in the contest.

He said "Mr. Smith never did look right to me. His look attracted my attention the first time he got on the car." While working in the contest he said Smith carried a switch in which he kept his papers and coupons. On one occasion the defendant was slipping the coupons on the street car when a colored man asked him if he could look at the paper. The witness flew into a rage, he said, and cried out, "You keep your mouth shut." Abel thought Smith was rather vicious.

Patterson asked him what he thought of an unsound mind was. "By the man's actions and looks," was all the witness could say. In his opinion Smith was of unsound mind and he had heard the matter often mentioned. He had heard his mother-in-law say that "Smith had made his sister accompany him when he went to see his girl." Abel said he had seen the defendant sit in his car numerous times as he is acting in the court room, but when the car reached York Run he would jump up and was always in a great hurry. Patterson tried to draw a comparison to the way in which the prisoner acts after he leaves the court room, but the defense objected. The objection was sustained.

Last Sunday School.

Dr. E. H. Fast, a Fairchance dentist, had known Frank Smith for 25 years. About 10 years ago Fast was superintendent of the Leatherman Sunday school and Frank was a teacher. Towards the last of the year his attendance on Sunday had dropped off and the superintendent was asked to visit him and find out the reason. He had never been able to get any satisfaction from his inquiries and dropped the matter.

The doctor thought his mind was unsound. He had never noticed any "stare eyes" prior to 1900. His opinion was based on the conversations he had with Smith, his nervousness and loud speech. He admitted a man engaged in peddling berries was liable to have a loud voice. As far as he knew, the defendant did not know right from wrong at the time of the killing. This condition had existed for eight years, he thought. Patterson asked, "What do you mean by right from wrong?" The witness was unable to answer.

Heard Will Case Soon.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 19.—(Special) A hearing in the contested will of the late Samuel N. Long will be held next Monday in Orphans' Court before Judge Work.

Cash in Advance Must be Paid for Ice in the Future

BEGINNING today the Young Crystal Ice and Storage Company started to do business on the pay cash or come across-a-advance system. Several consumers have been making weekly settlements with the drivers who advised that there was nothing doing no pay, no less. This was not the most pleasant news even to those who have settled regularly. The consumers kicked strenuously over the new move.

The drivers were obdurate, however, having positive orders to collect either cash or a ticket for every cake of ice delivered. The books of tickets are now sold cash in advance, a 10 per cent discount being allowed.

Several customers declined to take any ice on the new basis of settlement. They decided winter is close at hand and ice can be dispensed with until next summer anyhow.

"Why should we pay in advance for these tickets?" one of the angered consumers asked this morning. "Suppose the company should fail, or the plant burn down. Then follow with the tickets in the hands gets stuck. The company can as well afford to trust us as we can to trust it," was the way he summed up the situation.

Borough Sued for Damages

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 19.—Claiming $4,000 damages had been incurred by her as the result of sewer extensions made by the Borough of Uniontown, Mrs. Isabella C. Brown today filed a suit against this city, by her attorney, D. M. Herzog.

In the plaintiff's statement Mrs. Brown sets forth that she is the owner of a house and lot on Union street. Three years ago W. C. McCombe laid in the sewer pipe along Union street by which her cellar had been drained and kept in proper condition. The borough bought the sewer and extended it farther south, up a steep grade. Since then, following every heavy rain, the plaintiff alleges, the water has forced back into her cellar, rendering it useless and unhealthy. She avers that she has frequently requested the defendant to remedy the defect which they have failed to do. Because of the nuisance Mrs. Brown states she has been deprived of the use of her cellar, compelled to endure the annoyance of foul odors and that walls and floors have been injured, claiming she has suffered damages to the amount of $2,000.

Business Good Saturday Night in Connellsville

Business was brisk in town Saturday night and the stores had exceptionally good trade. The streets were crowded with shoppers from early in the evening until closing time.

It was pay day at the Pittsfield mill and several other establishments paid off at the same time. Added to the crowd of shoppers were those still spending some of the money the Uniontown & Olds left in town on Friday.

TROLLEY WIRE BROKE.

Pedestrians Along Main Street Scared for Cover Yesterday.

There was considerable excitement and a scurry for cover about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon on Main street when a trolley wire near the West Penn waiting room snapped with a sharp crack and caused the wires for a square or more to vibrate in an apparently dangerous manner.

The line crew soon repaired the break and the only delay was to a South Side car, which was held up 15 minutes at the waiting room.

Off for Detroit.

Judge R. E. Umbel and Attorney John M. Coro of Uniontown left yesterday for Detroit to attend a meeting of the 32nd degree Masons to be held there this week.

THOMAS GREGG PASSES AWAY.

VETERAN of the Civil War and was Well Known Resident.

CONSPICUOUS SERVICE IN ARMY

Was Born and Reared in Connellsville Where He Had Spent His Entire Life—Others in Connellsville and Nearby Town.

Thomas Gregg, aged 68 years, a civil war veteran, and one of the oldest and most widely known residents of Connellsville, died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at his late home No. 803 North Pittsburg street after an illness of complication of diseases.

Mr. Gregg was born in Connellsville August 10, 1842 and has resided here all his life.

At the age of 27 years he married Miss Nancy Caldwell of Connellsville and in August 29, 1864 he enlisted as a private for one year in Company L, 12th Pennsylvania Regiment. Heavy Artillery of which Joseph Keppen was captain and Charles Barnes colonel. Later he was promoted to corporal. The regiment was organized at Camp Reynolds, near Pittsburgh, August 16, 1864, and two days later was sent to Washington, D. C., and assigned to the Second Brigade, Dorfuss's division, which was garrisoning the defense of the capitol. It was also detailed to guard duty on the Orange & Alexandria railroad with Headquarters at the Fairfax court house.

Mr. Gregg was discharged and mustered out with his other comrades at Fort Ethan Allen June 13, 1865. Returning to Camp Reynolds the regiment finally disbanded, June 17, 1865. Mr. Gregg is survived by his widow and the following children, Mrs. W. J. Jones, Mrs. James Yocom, Mrs. John Denton and George Gregg, all of Connellsville; Charles Gregg and Mrs. S. P. Waltrip of McKeesport. The following sisters, Mrs. A. Campbell of Chicago, and Mrs. Thomas Patterson of Youngstown, Pa., and 15 grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held from his late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Klug admitted this morning that Marsh, who is married and has one child, had been keeping company with his daughter for the last year and that he was aware of the girl's intention of leaving at the time she went. Neither Edna nor Marsh would disclose what they did while away, and as both claimed to have started for Niagara separately, the charge of abduction could hardly stand.

Uniontown Has More Names Than Coke Center

Through a typographical error in The Courier of Saturday the statement was made that the Uniontown directory showed 736 names less than last year. This was a mistake.

J. H. Lant, who compiles the directory each year, made a thorough canvass of both Connellsville and Uniontown and the 1910-1911 edition of his directory is complete in every detail. It is the result of many weeks of painstaking labor. The directory is well worth the price that is charged for it. It contains a fund of valuable information which business men cannot afford to be without.

NOT SO COLD NOW.

HARD SHOWER LAST EVENING CAUSED TEMPERATURE TO REMAIN WARM.

The cold snap which prevailed several days last week seems to have abated to some degree. The temperature was 61 degrees this morning. It was the same last evening and 59 Sunday morning.

The latter part of last week the nights were almost uncomfortably cold but last night was not so chilly. A hard shower fell for a short time last evening.

UNIONTOWN COGS GOT 14. Penitentiary arrests were made in Uniontown Saturday night and Sunday, half of that number leaving for toasts, the remainder serving 24 hours. There were no hearings this morning.

President Kuhn of The West Penn on Inspection Trip

President W. S. Kuhn of the West Penn Railways Company made a tour of inspection of the coke region yesterday in company with Operating Manager W. E. Moore, Claim Agent T. B. Donnelly, Superintendent of Transportation M. A. Coffey and Division Superintendents C. H. Fife and W. F. Long. Mr. Kuhn was joined by the officials upon arriving in Connellsville the party first inspected the Greenwood carbarns and shops where the President of the system showed especial interest in the new type of car which is being assembled under the direction of Master Mechanic Daniel Durie. From the shops the party went to the big power house at Fayette where they inspected the plant under direction of Chief Engineer W. A. Asker.

Mr. Kuhn and party then went to Uniontown inspecting the line to Monaca and Brownsville.

He expressed much satisfaction over the condition he found things in the system and had a good word for the men of all departments. His coming was uneventful but the road was found in as good condition as though the inspection had been anticipated days before.

Following the receipt of the petition signed by 11 members of the School Board Saturday, President G. W. Gallagher called a special meeting for this afternoon at 4:30 when the entire Board will inspect the new High School building and determine whether the contractor has deviated from the plans and specifications, as alleged by some members.

The Board will go over the building in detail.

BOROUGH HAS LOTS OF MONEY; $33,382 PAID TREASURER TODAY.

TAX COLLECTOR Harry C. Norton Makes Fine Record on Both Borough and County Duplicates.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS TODAY TO INSPECT SCHOOL

ABOUT $19,000 STILL OUT

On the Borough Duplicate—Payment Was Made Saturday to County Treasurer Hutchinson on the County Duplicate—School Board Money.

TAX COLLECTOR H. C. Norton is making excellent progress collecting the 1910 duplicate as his returns to the borough, school and county treasurers shows. Today Mr. Norton will hand a check for $33,382.45 to Borough Treasurer J. W. Rutter in payment of the first 90 days collections on the borough duplicate. This leaves only $19,237.23 to be collected on the total of $52,673.65.

On Saturday Mr. Norton turned over a large percentage of the county duplicate to County Treasurer A. B. Hutchinson. He handed a check for $12,564.18, the total duplicate being $18,693.45. This leaves little more than $6,000 to be collected.

The money turned over to the School Board so far does not compare as favorably as the collections on the county and borough duplicates but this is because the five per cent. is allowed on the school tax until September 27, and Mr. Norton will not make his full return for the 90 day period until after then.

The School Board has already received two remittances from the Tax Collector, $3,076.62 on one occasion and $15,155.57 upon another. This makes a total of $18,693.19 which has been paid over towards the total of $63,465.45 on the duplicate.

It is expected that the collections between now and September 27 will be sufficient to make a fair comparison with the collections on the other two duplicates.

UNION FARMERS TALK SHOP AT THEIR MEETING

CRIPPEN WAITED FOR WIFE TO GO; PLANS TO WED GIRL

UNITED PRESS TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 19.—The Crippen inquest was resumed today with Mrs. Emily Jackson, a neighbor of the murderer's, on the stand. She testified that Miss Leneve told her several weeks before Mrs. Crippen's disappearance that she and the doctor were "waiting for Mrs. Crippen to make good her threat to leave her husband so the doctor could get a divorce."

After the divorce, the girl is alleged to have admitted she and Crippen were to marry, she was to marry, and Crippen was to marry her.

"I occasionally visited Miss Leneve before Mrs. Crippen disappeared," said Mrs. Jackson, "and always found her depressed and tearful. Miss Leneve said the doctor and his wife quarreled frequently and she was afraid she was the girl in the case."

Miss Jackson further testified that she visited Hill Top Crescent two months after Mrs. Crippen disappeared and the house smelled musty.

At the home of Henry C. White he lunched with President Taft, Lloyd C. Gilson, Otto T. Bannard and Charles D. Norton.

The Colonel left Oyster Bay before the correspondents could get on the trail. He crossed the Sound against a stiff wind. Gibson joined the Colonel at Black Rock and Norton met them several miles from New Haven in an automobile.

There is wildest speculation here as to the possibilities of the conference. It is a generally accepted theory that the Colonel requested the conference to ascertain more clearly what attitude must be taken towards the speech he gave at the Republican State convention at Saratoga.

Little Craft Takes the Waves in Good Shape—Larsen Swept by Currents to Canadian Side But Rushes Boat Back into Whirlpool.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 19.—Captain Klaus Larsen demonstrated that a motorboat can safely pass through Niagara's whirlpool rapids and whirlpool, although his little launch, the Ferro, came to grief between the falls, came to grief between the Ferro, came to grief between the falls, and the boat was driven back into the whirlpool and Lewiston.

The Ferro seemed in fine condition. Leaving the dock he sent her to mid-stream and headed straight for the rapids. He kept right in the center. The little launch made a nice appearance speedily through waters seldom pierced by craft. Under full power he drove her into the rapids. She took the waves in fine shape. Like a shot out of a gun the boat and its occupant were buried into the pool. Larsen had hoped to turn right out at the outlet, but in this he failed as he was carried around to the Canadian side on the currents.

He quickly rushed the boat across the narrows toward the outlet, through which he passed en route to Lewiston. The worst half of the trip was over but for some reason the engine ceased to work and Larsen found himself drifting in an eddy. As he had no oars and the engine was out of commission he accepted help from shore and landed.

Mayor Delays Larsen.
Larsen was delayed in starting because the mayor of Niagara Falls made an attempt to stop the foolhardy exhibition on the ground that the hazard was attempted suicide.

He appointed a committee of five to inspect the boat. With this committee Larsen sailed for half an hour before the start. It was assembled on the Canadian dock of the Maid of the Mist. Larsen ran his boat back and forth, but too far away for adequate inspection. Forty thousand people lined the bridges and banks of the Niagara. The delay caused by the mayor's inspection and some engine trouble caused a postponement. By the time more than half the spectators had disappeared.

THE TARIFF POLICIES OF TWO POLITICAL PARTIES.

When they have occurred under Republican administration, the struggles between labor and capital have always been assumed to be the logical result of Republican policies. Needless to say this has been a Democratic assumption. There have not been so many struggles between labor and capital under Democratic rule and the enforcement of Democratic policies, but the reason for this fact is not so creditable to Democratic administration as it appears on the surface.

Under Republican administration the differences between labor and capital have invariably arisen from the demands of labor for higher wages, and not of the demand of capital for reduced wages. Under Republican rule, there has been plenty of employment. The demand for labor has exceeded the supply, and the inevitable trade result has been increased and increasing wages. Capital has sometimes thought the increasing demands of labor were not justified by industrial conditions and has resisted them.

This has led to strikes which have been disastrous to capital and labor and the whole country. It is worthy of note, however, that these strikes have been the exception. As a rule employers have either acceded to the demands of their workmen or submitted them to peaceful arbitration;

or, as has been the rule in the Connellsville coke region for a number of years past, they have voluntarily advanced wages when business seemed good, and have not reduced them save for palpable cause, the Justice of which has been recognized by the coke workers.

The labor troubles under Democratic domination have not run so much to strikes as they have to lack of employment. UNDER DEMO-CRATIC POLICIES, IT HAS NOT BEEN A QUESTION OF WAGES,
BUT OF WORK. The Tariff has been a fruitful source of Democratic agitation. It is the chief topic of discussion in this campaign. It is the stone upon which the Democrats hope to step into power with the assistance of thoughts of Republicans who imagine that a High Protective Tariff has been the direct cause of the High Cost of Living.

There is neither truth nor logic in this doctrine. The Tariff law now in operation is not a High Tariff. The duties levied under it are lower than those levied under the old laws, but they are adjusted on the basis of Protection to American Industries to yield the best revenue results; and it must not be forgotten that the primary object of the Tariff laws is to raise revenue, not that the Non's share of the Federal Government's income is derived from this source alone.

Protection is largely incidental, BUT ITS INCIDENTAL WISDOM HAS BEEN AMPLY PROVEN BY THE EXPERIENCE OF THE PAST
DOZEN YEARS.

It is charged that the Payne-Aldrich bill is inequitable, that some articles are taxed too high, and perhaps some too low, and that it must be revised. THE LAST CONGRESS PROVIDED FOR ITS REVISION AND REGULATION IN A SAFE AND SANE WAY; that is to say through a Tariff Commission similar to its powers and duties to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has proven itself to be entirely equal to the adjustment on a fair and equitable basis of disputes between shippers and railroads concerning rates and services. The Tariff bill undoubtedly contains some inequities, but they will be remedied in due season through the operation of this new corrective agency. Let us give it a fair trial before condemning it.

The Democrats, seeing what they think is an opportunity to mount again to power, but mistaking as usual the point and the temper of the people, are boldly proclaiming that they will raise and reduce the Tariff to a purely revenue basis. It is not possible that the people of this nation have so soon forgotten the last Democratic Tariff bill which became a law. It was passed in pursuance to the avowed policy of the Democratic party, which had declar-

T. R. has drafted a platform which he hopes the New York State Republicans will adopt.—News Item.

AUGUST TERM ENDS.

Record in Criminal Session Made at Greensburg This Month.

GREENSBURG, Sept. 19.—The August term of criminal court was brought to a close Saturday after a three weeks record-breaking run, in which almost 300 criminal cases were disposed of.

The session was featured by the largest criminal list ever up in Westmoreland county and by the facts that the August civil list was continued entirely and grand jury compelled to work two weeks in passing up the criminal bills presented.

Not all of the cases listed, however, were run off, as the number reached near 350. After a two weeks rest by the court, and by District Attorney
Dow, and his assistants, Attorneys Cart and Coop, a special October term will be begun on Monday, October 3.

This will run for two weeks.

The last work in the August term was the trying of the suits for pointing the arms, of Raolo Valentine against M. C. Smith and F. P. McClain, before Judge Doty, and of John Flece against C. M. Solweller before Judge McConnell. Both cases were begun
Saturday morning.

In the suit before Judge Doty, it was alleged by Valentine that on the morning of April 12, last, he was attacked by Smith near Rilton, beaten and knocked to the ground, and then fired at by both Smith and McClain, when he endeavored to get away.

Miss Margaret Creighton, of Rilton, 10 years old and a pretty little girl, was a feature witness of the case. Attired in a handsome dress and wearing a tan coat trimmed in blue, she sat high up in the chair on the stand and made a good witness. She told the jury what she had seen while on her way to school that morning.

She stated she was going up the road from the town when she saw Smith attack Valentine, push him against a telegraph pole, and then knock him into the gutter. A moment later, she said she saw a stone hurled at Smith, striking him on the head and bringing blood. Then Valentine fired. Smith and McClain both drew revolvers, she claimed, and fired after the fleeing Valentine, who finally dropped.

In defense, it was claimed that Valentine had been arrested and had given the officers in charge, Smith and McClain, considerable trouble in handling him. The case took up the entire forenoon, the final address to the jury being made just before noon. The men were acquitted.

Lawrenceville, near Latrobe, on the night of July 22, was the time and the place of the occurrence in which John Flece and C. M. Solweller were the principals.

It was alleged by Flece that Sol-weller had attacked him near a barn
there and had pointed a gun at him, threatening to shoot.

The defense asserted that on the night given, a guard had been stationed by deputies about the house and barn, where some stones throwing had caused considerable trouble. At some time after 11 o'clock, they stated Flece came past the barn and was halted. Being unknown to the men, he was taken to the office of the company, where he was identified and then let go. Several deputies were called to the stand and testified that Solweller did not draw a gun on Flece.

The case was finished shortly after 11 o'clock and a verdict of not guilty was rendered by the jury. The costs were placed on Flece.

At the opening of the court before Judges Doty and McConnell, Saturday morning, verdicts were rendered in the riot case, tried Friday.

In three suits of H. J. Haser and George Falls, deputies against 27 miners and residents of Irwin and that vicinity, the defendants were found not guilty and the costs placed on the deputies.

The results of Tinkering,

The troubles of the Keystone Party rended us a story Butler Webber of Howard used to tell about his friend,
Bell Telephone.

Leather had a field of corn which had been planted in corn. The spring proved a very wet one and the corn didn't seem to grow, though he worked at it almost incessantly.

One day while he was busily hoeing, a neighbor came along the road and leaning on the fence, addressed the man with the hoe by saying,

"Well, Bell, your corn doesn't seem to grow."

"No," replied Bell, "it doesn't."

A short time after, Weber, came alone, and, likewise using the fence as a support, addressed Leathers by name, and said he could not seem to show up, whereupon Leathers set down his hoe and replied:

"No, it doesn't seem to make any headway, and it seems the more I plow with it the heftier it gets."

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTDALE, Sept. 19.—An endeavor is being made by citizens along the public road leading from Pittsburg street west of town past the White school in East Huntington township to secure six electric lights to illuminate that thoroughfare. This locality is claimed to be about the handsomest and most rapidly growing residential section about town. A large number of citizens and a large amount of taxes derived from that locality is used as one of the arguments for getting the lights. The road is a greatly used one, and the residents have natural gas, city water and telephones and now desire electric lights. A petition has been drawn up and presented to the proper authorities to secure if possible the lighting, asking for which will cost about $11 per year. Among those who have already signed the petition are:

Two Families Meet.
Mrs. L. C. Porter entertained the family of her brother, Dr. A. W. Stricker at her farm a mile west of town at a picnic dinner on Saturday, to which all brought well filled baskets and ate dinner out doors and then had lunch before going home. There were present: Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Stricker, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stricker and children, Paul, Albert and Wayne; Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Stricker, Albert J. Stricker, Miss Helen Stricker and Miss Georgia Wray, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Lester Porter and children, Eugene, Lorona and L. E., Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan Porter and Albert L. Porter.

Preached at Mt. Pleasant.
Rev. M. S. Myers, pastor of the First United Brethren Church of Mt. Pleasant, who is a resident of Scottdale, preached at the Rohrbach Reformed Church yesterday evening. Rev. Mr. Myers was formerly of that town and is well acquainted with the people there so that his visit was one of personal interest.

Was a Big Pay.
Saturday's pay was a large one from nearly every mill and factory here and about $60,000 was turned out in the town, making a lively day of business, with big crowds on the streets in the afternoon and evening.

Child Was Lost.

Harold, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dillinger, who lives on the former A. T. Fleming place, west of town, wandered away from home, accompanied by his coach pup, Spot, Sunday morning, and caused the people of that neighborhood uneasiness for some time. Several started out to look for the little fellow and at last he and his little dog were found near a hedge fence line between the Frotts and Porter farms, and restored to his home. The youngster was chilled and was scratched up by the hedge thorns that he had become tangled with and was crying, but no bad effects were looked for yesterday.

Missionary Meeting.

Several ladies of the Methodist Episcopal and the Jacob's Creek church are expected to attend the McKersport District Woman's Foreign Missionary society convention at Uniontown on Wednesday. This will be the only district convention this year. Mrs. H. F. Fisher will preside, and there will be addresses by Mrs. E. D. Van Kirk, Miss Norma Fendrich, Miss Jean Adams and Miss Carnahan.

Gone to Convention.
J. Harvey Lutker left on Saturday for Atlantic City, where he will attend the encampment and convention of the Independent Order of Americans.

Carnival is Over.

The Hatch Carnival folded its tent Saturday night and yesterday afternoon the paraphernalia was all loaded on to the special train belonging to the show, a passenger coach was dropped in and the carnival people boarded the train and it was started for Arnold where the show fills this week. Arnold is the town where there was a "caraval of balls" some time ago for which several prominent election officers are now under indictment. They were apparently much coarser workers than the people with the show here last week. The Firemen made out fairly well on the proposition and gave a week of good amusement.

Drew a Large Crowd.

There was a nice sized crowd, a good many of the members being from here, out at the festival held at Chapel

BLUE AND GRAY MAY JOIN HANDS.

This Year's Encampment Likely to Be Last
for G. A. R.

VETS MEET AT ATLANTIC CITY

Commander-in-Chief Van Sant's Suggestion That Union and Confederate Soldiers Come Together Around One Great Campfire Hereafter.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 19.—The forty-fourth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which began its sessions here today, may be the last.

The commander-in-chief, General Samuel Van Sant, declared that he hoped to attend a great national encampment next year when survivors of the Civil war, whether they be of Lee's or Grant's, Longstreet's or Sherman's army, should rally around one great campfire and hold forth as brothers and Americans in peace and harmony.

Hardly had the applause following these words died than a Confederate soldier, General Hilary A. Herbert, formerly secretary of the navy, in the Cleveland cabinet and during the war a member of the staff of General Robert E. Lee, arose and declared that the words of the commander-in-chief sounded the advent of an era of good feeling never before equalled.

Veterans Stirred.

As a climax to his address he grasped the Stars and Stripes and said that under that banner he wanted to see the heroes of the north and of the south unite.

He extended his hand to General Van Sant and declared that he and many of his brothers in the south would work for the great reunion of the Blue and Gray. There are about 75,000 veterans here. They did little more than regale and troop up and down the boardwalk, seeking out old campmates and the friends of the war times.

Every train is bringing more of the veterans. All the famous war songs and battle yell are being rehearsed. The women of the Grand Army of the Republic are holding meetings every afternoon and tonight will give Mr. Van Sant a reception at Haddon Hall.

CHICAGO'S POPULATION.

The 1910 Census Figures Show More Than 2,000,000 People.

Washington, Sept. 19.—The census bureau announced that the present population of Chicago is 2,185,283. This is a gain of 486,708 or 23.7 per cent since 1900.

As the second city in America Chicago is practically in a class by itself. New York far outstrips it with 4,766,583 and Philadelphia, which is its nearest rival for the second honor, this year, showed a population of 1,649,003.

The percentage of increase of Chicago is 10 per cent less than that of New York for the last decade. The population of Chicago in 1900 was 1,698,575 and in 1890 it was 1,099,350. The increase, therefore, for the last decade is far less than for the preceding decade, which was 54.4 per cent.

The population of New Orleans is 339,075, an increase of 51,371 or 15.1 per cent, as compared with 287,104 in 1900.

While New Orleans' growth during the past decade was only slightly below her percentage of increase of the previous decade, the Crescent City, through the more rapid growth of other cities in the 100,000 class, lost its position of twelfth in the list of the country's biggest cities and now occupies fifteenth position.

ONE SUCCESSFUL, ONE FAILS

Two Young Women of White Plains, Tired of Life, Try Suicide.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Two young women attempted to take their lives in the streets in this village and one was successful. Miss Lillian Anderson shot herself through the heart and died three hours later. She was twenty-four years old and had been despondent for weeks owing to the death of a brother.

Mrs. Mary Smith, wife of a trolley conductor, attempting to take her life by drinking carbolic acid. As she put the bottle to her mouth several persons rushed toward her, but she drank the acid and smashed the bottle on the pavement. She was taken to the hospital where doctors soon had her out of danger.

GREATER BOSTON IS THE CRY.

Bonfires Would Add District Twenty Miles Around the Hub.

Boston, Sept. 19.—A bill will be introduced at the next session of the legislature calling for a greater Boston to embrace the forty cities and towns included in the metropolitan district and the establishment of a metropolitan council to consist of the mayors and chairmen of boards of education in the district.

For twenty years there has been a cry for a greater Boston district. This plan would give Boston a population of 1,630,000, instead of 670,000, as announced recently.

MORGAN AND BUCKEYE.

OWENSDALE, Sept. 19.—(Special.) The Buckeye team of the Northern Frick league will play the Morgan A. C. at the Morgan grounds this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Buckeye team holds down second place in the Northern League and is putting up a game fight for first honors. The team is composed of some star players such as Donnecker, the star twirler of the Evergreen Independent team; Speciman; Spikor, Minard and Clausor, and they will put up a good game against M. A. C.

Donnecker and E. Speciman will be the battery for Buckeye, while Klingensmith and Robbins, will do the battery work for M. A. C.

Big Legal Battle Expected in Fight Against Gas Co.

MT. PLEASANT, Sept. 19.—F. E. Painter, George Henford and Charles Cunningham, representing each ward in the town, compose a committee appointed by Council at a special committee session Friday evening, to take further steps in the gas issue over which the borough has been stirred up for the past month. The committee is empowered to employ an attorney to look after the interests of the borough in the fight with the Fayette County Gas Company for legal rates.

With the fortification of their franchise, Mt. Pleasant comes into the possession of all the pipes belonging to the company now laid through the streets and alleys of the borough. Having gas connections made to practically every house in the borough is a big step already accomplished in the proposal that Council take control of the gas situation. Citizens discussed at length the proposition of inducing the H. C. Frick Coke Company to install Kepner ovens at their Standard mine and manufacture fuel for the town from waste products. The quality of gas made from the fumes of the burning coal is said to be even better than the natural gas. In order to install the system, less than one hundred ovens will have to be rebuilt.

USE OF AEROPLANE IN WAR

Secretary of the Navy Thinks They Would Be Great Aid to Army.

Boston, Sept. 19.—Secretary of the Navy George Von L. Meyer, one of the most interested onlookers at the Harvard-Boston aviation meet, believes that the advent of the aeroplane in warfare will not affect the navy but will give material aid to the army for scouting purposes.

"I don't believe that these aeroplanes are going to put our battle fleet out of commission, certainly not at once. But where they unquestionably are going to prove of great service is in the country in time of war will be observed. Now just imagine what a great help a fleet of aeroplanes would have been in the Spanish war. Do you remember when our fleet was scouring the Cuban coast, our scouts ships, cruising for weeks at a time from one end of the island to the other, hunting for news of the Spanish fleet? And all the time the Cervera's fleet lay tucked in Santiago harbor."

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK

Operator Held Responsible; Says He Didn't Understand Signal System.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 19.—Four men were killed and two severely injured in a head-on collision between Mobile and Ohio and Iron Mountain freight trains nine miles north of Cairo in a fog which obscured the headlights.

Operator Charles E. Clark, who is blamed for the wreck, is under arrest. He only went on duty an hour before the wreck occurred. The regular operator was sick and he was sent to relieve him. He claims he did not understand the signal system.

The dead: John Crosno, fireman; Claude Rollins, engineer; Wesley A. Stevenson, brakeman; an unknown negro. All except the negro lived in Jackson, Tenn.

Engineer A. Burgin of St. Louis and Conductor F. A. Buchminster of Chester, Ill., were critically injured.

M'GREW DIES AT AGE OF 97

Oldest Ex-Congressman in the Country Was West Virginian.

Kingwood, W. Va., Sept. 19.—At his home here James Clark McGrew, the oldest ex-congressman in the United States, died at the age of ninety-seven, death coming unexpectedly and shortly after a celebration of his birthday just Wednesday, in which he participated.

A native of Preston county, this state, he was a self-made and self-educated man, rising from a poor farmer's boy to a banker and merchant. He was a remarkable man in many particulars, after his eightieth year acquiring knowledge of the typewriter and conducting his own correspondence. He was a son of Colonel James McGrew, a colonel in the War of 1812 and of a Scotch-Virginian family.

ESCAPE FROM CAR WINDOW

Seven Boys of Lancaster (O.) Industrial School Take Desperate Chance.

Wootton, O., Sept. 19.—When the train on which they were riding was running twenty miles an hour seven boys, inmates of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, O., jumped through the windows in the cars and succeeded in making their escape. The getaway was made three miles east of this city.

The seven are members of the boy's band from the school and had been playing here for three days during the county fair. Several possemen have been scouring the country for the runaways, but without success, until they came to a place where the bunch had stopped and ripped the stripes off their military uniforms.

AGAIN ON HIS BACK

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Mark Slatzer, former state's printer, serving four years in the penitentiary for killing and having cashed false vouchers, again confined to a cot in the prison hospital. His physician is of the opinion that he has a complication of disease, which will take some time to cure it such ever can be accomplished.

Zimmerman Offered 105 Times.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 19.—William H. Zimmerman, outfielder on the Utica team of the New York State league, which has closed its season, broke all records for base stealing in organized baseball for the past twenty-four years during the season now ended. He stole 105 bases.

GREATER BOSTON IS THE CRY.

Bonfires Would Add District Twenty Miles Around the Hub.

Boston, Sept. 19.—A bill will be introduced at the next session of the legislature calling for a greater Boston to embrace the forty cities and towns included in the metropolitan district and the establishment of a metropolitan council to consist of the mayors and chairmen of boards of education in the district.

For twenty years there has been a cry for a greater Boston district. This plan would give Boston a population of 1,630,000, instead of 670,000, as announced recently.

SAVING MONEY.

If more people knew how the first two or three entries in the Savings Book help and stimulate the owner to make additions thereto, less people would be caught out in the wet when the proverbial "Rainy Day" comes.

people at Allison and residing in Van Wert, told of Smith's appearance the night of March 16th when he was brought to Unsworth by Malone and Fee. He said the prisoner was very excited and looked careworn. His state was peculiar, but in a couple of weeks they had become used to it, he said, and it did not seem to be so bad.

Clinton admitted under cross-examination that on the night the murderer was lodged in jail he had been in his cell a short time when constables, detectives and reporters arrived to see him. They were there but a couple of minutes when Smith stopped out and said: "Why, gentlemen, if I had known it was you I would have come out before," and then told the story of his wanderings after the crime in a rational manner. After Constable Mike Morris had read a warrant to him, the prisoner said for his lawyers, Attorney Gans and Jones. From that time on he was not talkative, the witness said. "He shut up like a clam," didn't he?" quipped Patterson.

Quite often, he said, Smith had come into his store and sat down by the stove, usually bringing his dog with him. "All of a sudden he would jump up and dash out of the door without a word." Stumm thought everybody was more or less unbound, but the general talk had been to the effect that there was something wrong with Frank Smith.

On cross examination he said he was not of the same political faith as the defendant and had acted as a watcher at the elections. He spoke of an incident that occurred recently when Smith refused to allow John Cora a vote, though he had tax receipt. Later Stumm admitted that Ewing Swaney, the tax collector, was present and had informed the Judge of Election was bogus. The witness thought he should have allowed him to vote anyway and then prosecuted. He said after the arguments as to Cora's rights, Smith told the man: "You can't vote. Get out of here and never come back," and he went.

Stumm said he thought the reason the defendant was nominated on both the Republican and Democratic tickets last February was because there was only ten Republicans in German No. 4. At that time he thought Smith was considered crazy from wrong.

Court adjourned at 2:40 o'clock as the defense had no more witness, except their physicians, who they were not ready to call.

One is the boy of Mrs. Hustedt, the other case is the other case at the home of George H. Stearns, where his grandfather, Virginia, Illinois, was seriously ill. ## Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

To neglect a cold, bronchitis, lung trouble or Consumption is dangerous. We all know people who have had them, they have a Consumption. It is a wasting disease, and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call consumption by its own name, and you will find it is the disease's active, because it is effective in tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it, there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Rev. Mr. Jenkins, N. Y.

Mr. Hoblitzell, Jr., arrived this morning, on Avenue L, Linfield from Ohio, where he and his wife and daughter are looking after the work of road construction that is being done by Hoblitzell & Price, general contractors, of this place.

Mr. Leonard, who is managing a large general store at Cumberland, started here this morning and spent the day with Mrs. Leonard and family at their residence on May street.

Harry Lepley, a boy from Johnstown, came to town Saturday morning to visit his brother, Walter Lepley, who is confined in the Memorial hospital suffering from scrofulosis received while working in the mines at DuBois, Cambria county.

T. H. Lyon and Samuel Stolbach, officials of the Consolidation Coal Company, Somersett office, were looking after the company's business here yesterday.

J. H. Davis of Ursula, was transacting business here yesterday afternoon.

Dr. E. C. Stratton of Zanesville, a noted practitioner, was here today upon professional business.

A. P. Bill of Pittsburgh, a native of Meyersdale, spent yesterday greeting the friends of the community.

The Hon. Webster Grim, candidate on the Democratic ticket for the office of Governor of Pennsylvania, arrived here yesterday afternoon from Berlin, and spent last evening and today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Grim.

LEISENRING PLAYED POOR GAME; OUTCLASSED BY CAR SHOP BOYS.

Could Not Have Put Up a Poorer Exhibition Than They Did at Everson on Saturday Afternoon.

THE TEAM WAS CRIPPLED

By Loss of Two or Three Regular Players and Flinerty Made a Miserable Start in the First Round—Car Shops Has Fast Nine.

Organ baseball was the brand displayed by the Leisenring Frick League two champions against the Everson Car Shops Saturday with the consequence that John Gordon's boys won handily 9 to 1. The game was the worse Leisenring had yet played this season and never for an instant did the champs have a look in. While the teams when it is right, can give the Car Shops a hard tussle from start to finish, the aggregation which played baseball Saturday could not have qualified for a berth in the Church league.

And where Leisenring was bad, Car Shops was never better. The boys have a grand baseball team and it will take mighty good baseball to beat them. With Horne in the box, Sam Brown on first and a peggy, gingery man in every position Car Shops looks like a real ball team. The Gordons played a real game Saturday and made Leisenring look bad by comparison.

Leisenring had a bad start and a worse finish. Flinerty looked easy to the home club and was. Frank Jones was better for a time but they got to him after a bit. This, coupled with wild fielding, made the outcome never in doubt. Leisenring was weak at first. Mullin started out but quit after the fourth inning. King was not a great improvement. The absence of Ted Slesky left a big hole in the infield for Red not only plays the game right up to the handle but that carpet patch of his contains enough ginger for the whole nine. Leisenring played dopey baseball throughout the entire game.

Flinerty started to pitch. After Leisenring had been rotted in order, he walked to the mound. He gave A. Byrne a base on balls. Sam Brown bunted the ball and Gotsel did not get far enough towards second to nab Byrne on Flinerty's toss. Both were safe. Flinerty hit Watson and the cushions were full. Quash belted the ball to right. It hit Sweeney in duster over second. In the ninth, with two down, J. Jones hit a two bases but O'Laughlin fanned and the game was over. The score:

Post-Season Notes.

Davidson defeated a picked team 12 to 7 Saturday.

Car Shops has an infid almost as fast as the Trotter diamond. It is practically impossible to beat out an infid hit on it.

Shulsky doesn't jolt it but it fast as lightning. He laid down a bunt and tried to beat it to first. Dooley handled the play and just suited a left-handed thrower. He caught Shulsky by a hair.

The last score for Car Shops came in the seventh on heavy hit by Watson opened with a single and stole second. Quash singled. Mullik singled and scored Watson. J. Byrne hit for a base. Shulsky fanned Carbaugh hit to Jones, who tossed Quash out at the plate. Dooley threw to first to catch Carbaugh and King ran in time to nail Mullik as he crossed at third by Dooley.

In the seventh inning Leisenring got its first hit. With two down F. Jones walked and O'Laughlin then dumped a Texas bunter back of third which fell safe. Westenberg popped to short. In the eighth the Leisenring boys escaped a shutout when Flinerty opened the session with a double to middle. He took third on Clark's out and scored on King's hit. In the ninth, Quash hit a two base hit which skinned over second base. Westenberg went behind the bag and made a brilliant stop. His throw to first was perfect. Quash

H. SPITTLER WAS BEST SHORTSTOP.

Davidson Player Led Central Frick League in Fielding.

CUNNINGHAM GAME SECOND

Clover Trotter Boy Handled Greatest Number of Chances—Westerberg of Leisenring Third—Eight Greatest Number of Errors.

Harry Spittler of Davidson, whose apparently erratic work caused him to be recalled as one of the weak men of the team's defense, is vindicated by the official fielding averages for the shortstops. Spittler leads the list with a percentage of 90% in his 11 games.

Patty Cunningham of Trotter is second. Patty handled the greatest number of chances, 51 in all, and made the most errors, 8. His percentage was .851. Westenberg of Leisenring finished third among the shortstops. Fourth position was claimed by Wayne Forsythe of Butler, fifth by Head of Butte and sixth by Gardner of Lemont, who started the season as an outfielder.

H. Kling, Smith of Morgan and Bailey of Monarch were the trailers. The average of those playing five or more games at short follow:

H. Spittler, Davidson 11 22 18 .900
Cunningham, Trotter 14 22 18 .852
Westerberg, Leisenring 10 16 19 .812
Forsythe, Butler 10 16 18 .810
Head, Butte 10 15 18 .800
Gardner, Lemont 10 10 10 .800
H. Kling, Morgan 10 10 10 .800
Bailey, Monarch 10 7 13 7 .741 and 11 beat by a yard but Slevin called the runner out to his intense disgust. It enabled Westenberg to figure in a brilliant play.

O'Laughlin warned the bench most of the time; but the first time at bat he made the first safety registered off Horne.

King's legs have a famous Wagner expression.

The Byrne boys play gingery base ball for the Car Shops team.

Quash got a lucky two base hit in the first inning. It was a clean single to right but the ball bounded badly, hit Sweeney in the eye and rolled off to the side lines. Sweeney's eye was almost closed and he reeled in favor of Clark.

Watson is an aggressive player. His hitting was heavy.

Leisenring certainly missed Slevin at first.

His Appeal to "Dear Tom."

Connellsville, Sept. 19, 1910.

DEAR TOM.—

Will you drop in at Wright-Metzler's tomorrow morning and help me select a suit? Sorry to ask your time (although I'm well aware it's welcome while your machine is in the repair shop) but I was in Saturday to look over the fall stuffs, and I found just the suit for me (it was a shade of brown I hadn't seen elsewhere) until the salesman showed me a peculiar grayish color. There's where I stuck, hence this appeal to you, old chap. You are so decidedly decisive on such matters that the one you say is "it" goes. By the way, I saw a very clever hat (someone had smashed the old straw last week) that I think would make your sturdy face stand out fine—it's a Stetson at $3.50. Tom you help me and I'll help you buy a hat—because that's one thing you never could make good at—hat buying.

Well, Tom, this has the proportions of a letter, although I merely intended writing a note. The more I think of those suits (they both were $25.00), the more I could write.

Remember tomorrow morning at about 10 if you are up.

Now is your opportunity. 1,000 pairs left to pick from.
